

Upcoming Themes for the 2012 Bartimaeus Monthly Webinar Series

Our monthly webinars are part of our efforts at BCM to do more online education in order to increase our reach, decrease our travel schedule and reduce our carbon footprint! We appreciate your interest in our work. Here's the line-up for our upcoming webinars:

Wed, Feb 8th: A preview of Ched Myers and Matt Colwell's upcoming book entitled Our God is Undocumented: Biblical Faith and Immigrant Rights, which is just out from Orbis Books (and available now on www.ChedMyers.org).

Wed, Mar 21st: Explorations in Ecojustice Theology. "Redemption as Rehydration: The Eschatological Vision of Water in the Bible." This webinar will correspond with the publication of Ched's article on this theme in the April edition of Sojourners magazine.

Tue, Apr 24th: "Reflections on the Los Angeles Uprising, Twenty Years Later." Ched will look back on his searing experience of the largest urban riots in U.S. history (April 29-May 2, 1992), the second time in his life he saw his city burn. Some history, context and reflections on urban ministry today.

Thanks for helping spread the word of our 2012 Webinar series! For more information email us at: inquiries@bcm-net.org.
